

A FAMILY FEAST

2018
Blog Media Kit

About Us

A Family Feast was started in September 2012 as a way for blog co-creators Martha & Jack Pesa to share their most requested recipes – and the response has been tremendous!

Known for their mouth-watering photographs and well-instructed recipes made with fresh ingredients, Martha & Jack's food is often inspired by New England coastal living, as well as time-tested family recipes passed down through the generations.

We're thrilled to have you join us in the kitchen!

Stats At A Glance

*A Family Feast readers are mostly college-educated moms between the ages of 25-54 living in middle income households and viewing our site on a mobile device.
